

RACIAL WEALTH SNAPSHOT

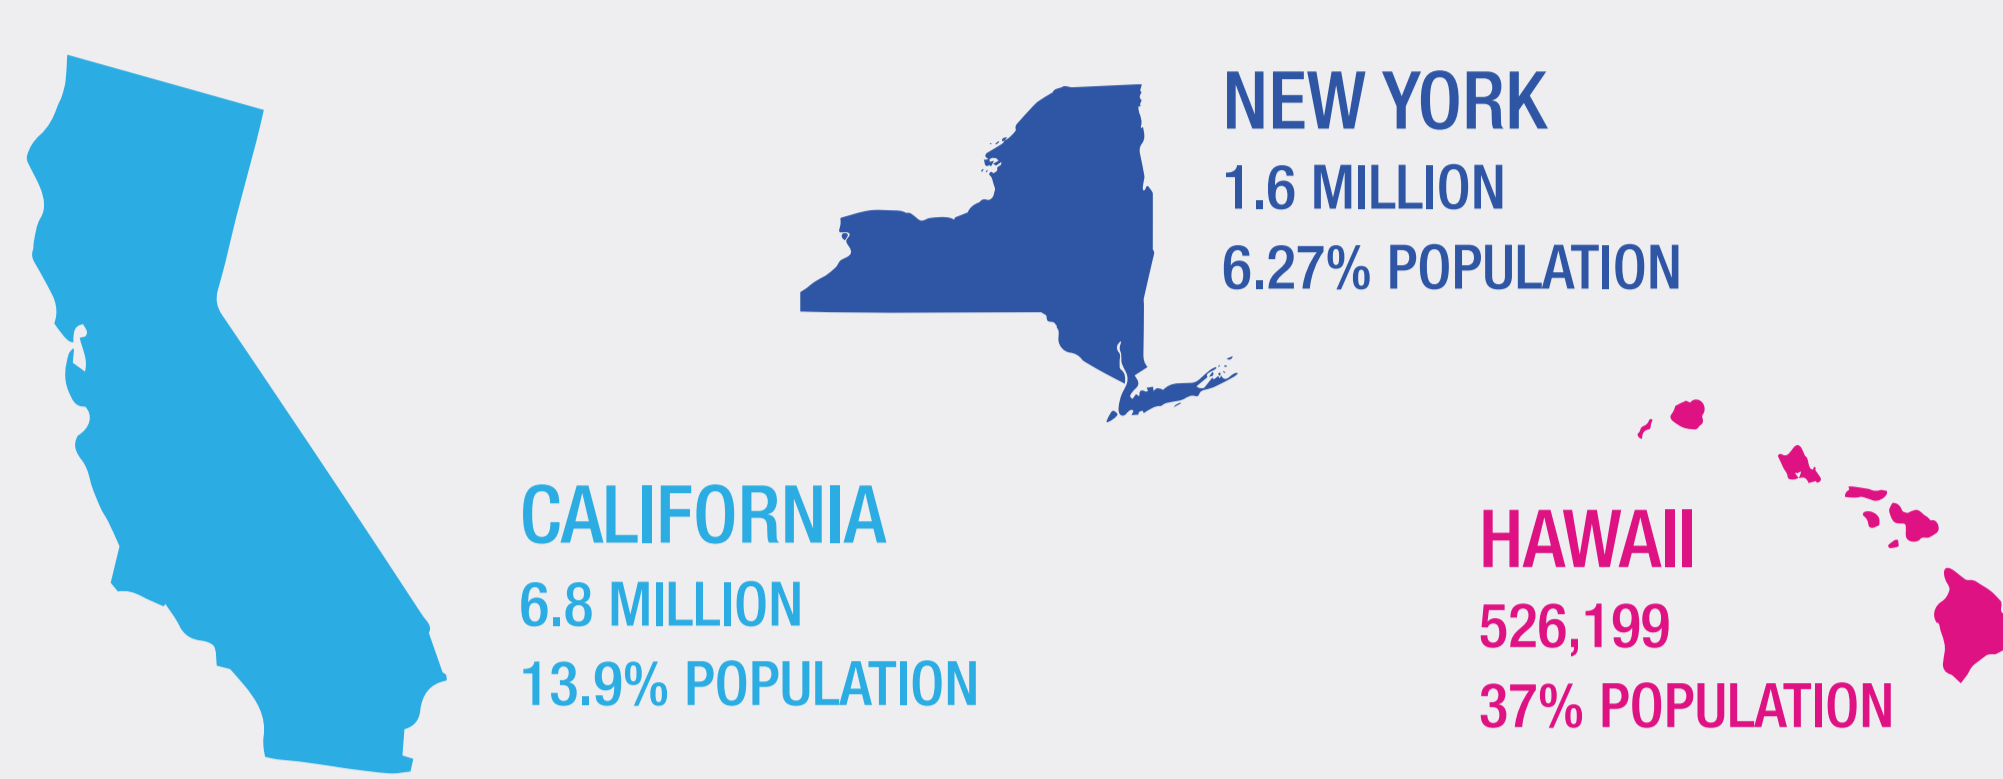

Asian Americans and the Racial Wealth Divide

DEMOGRAPHICS

Asian American is a racial category that includes Americans who are from or whose relatives are from a diverse group of countries. Within this diversity of Asian American nationalities we see a diversity of economic outcomes.

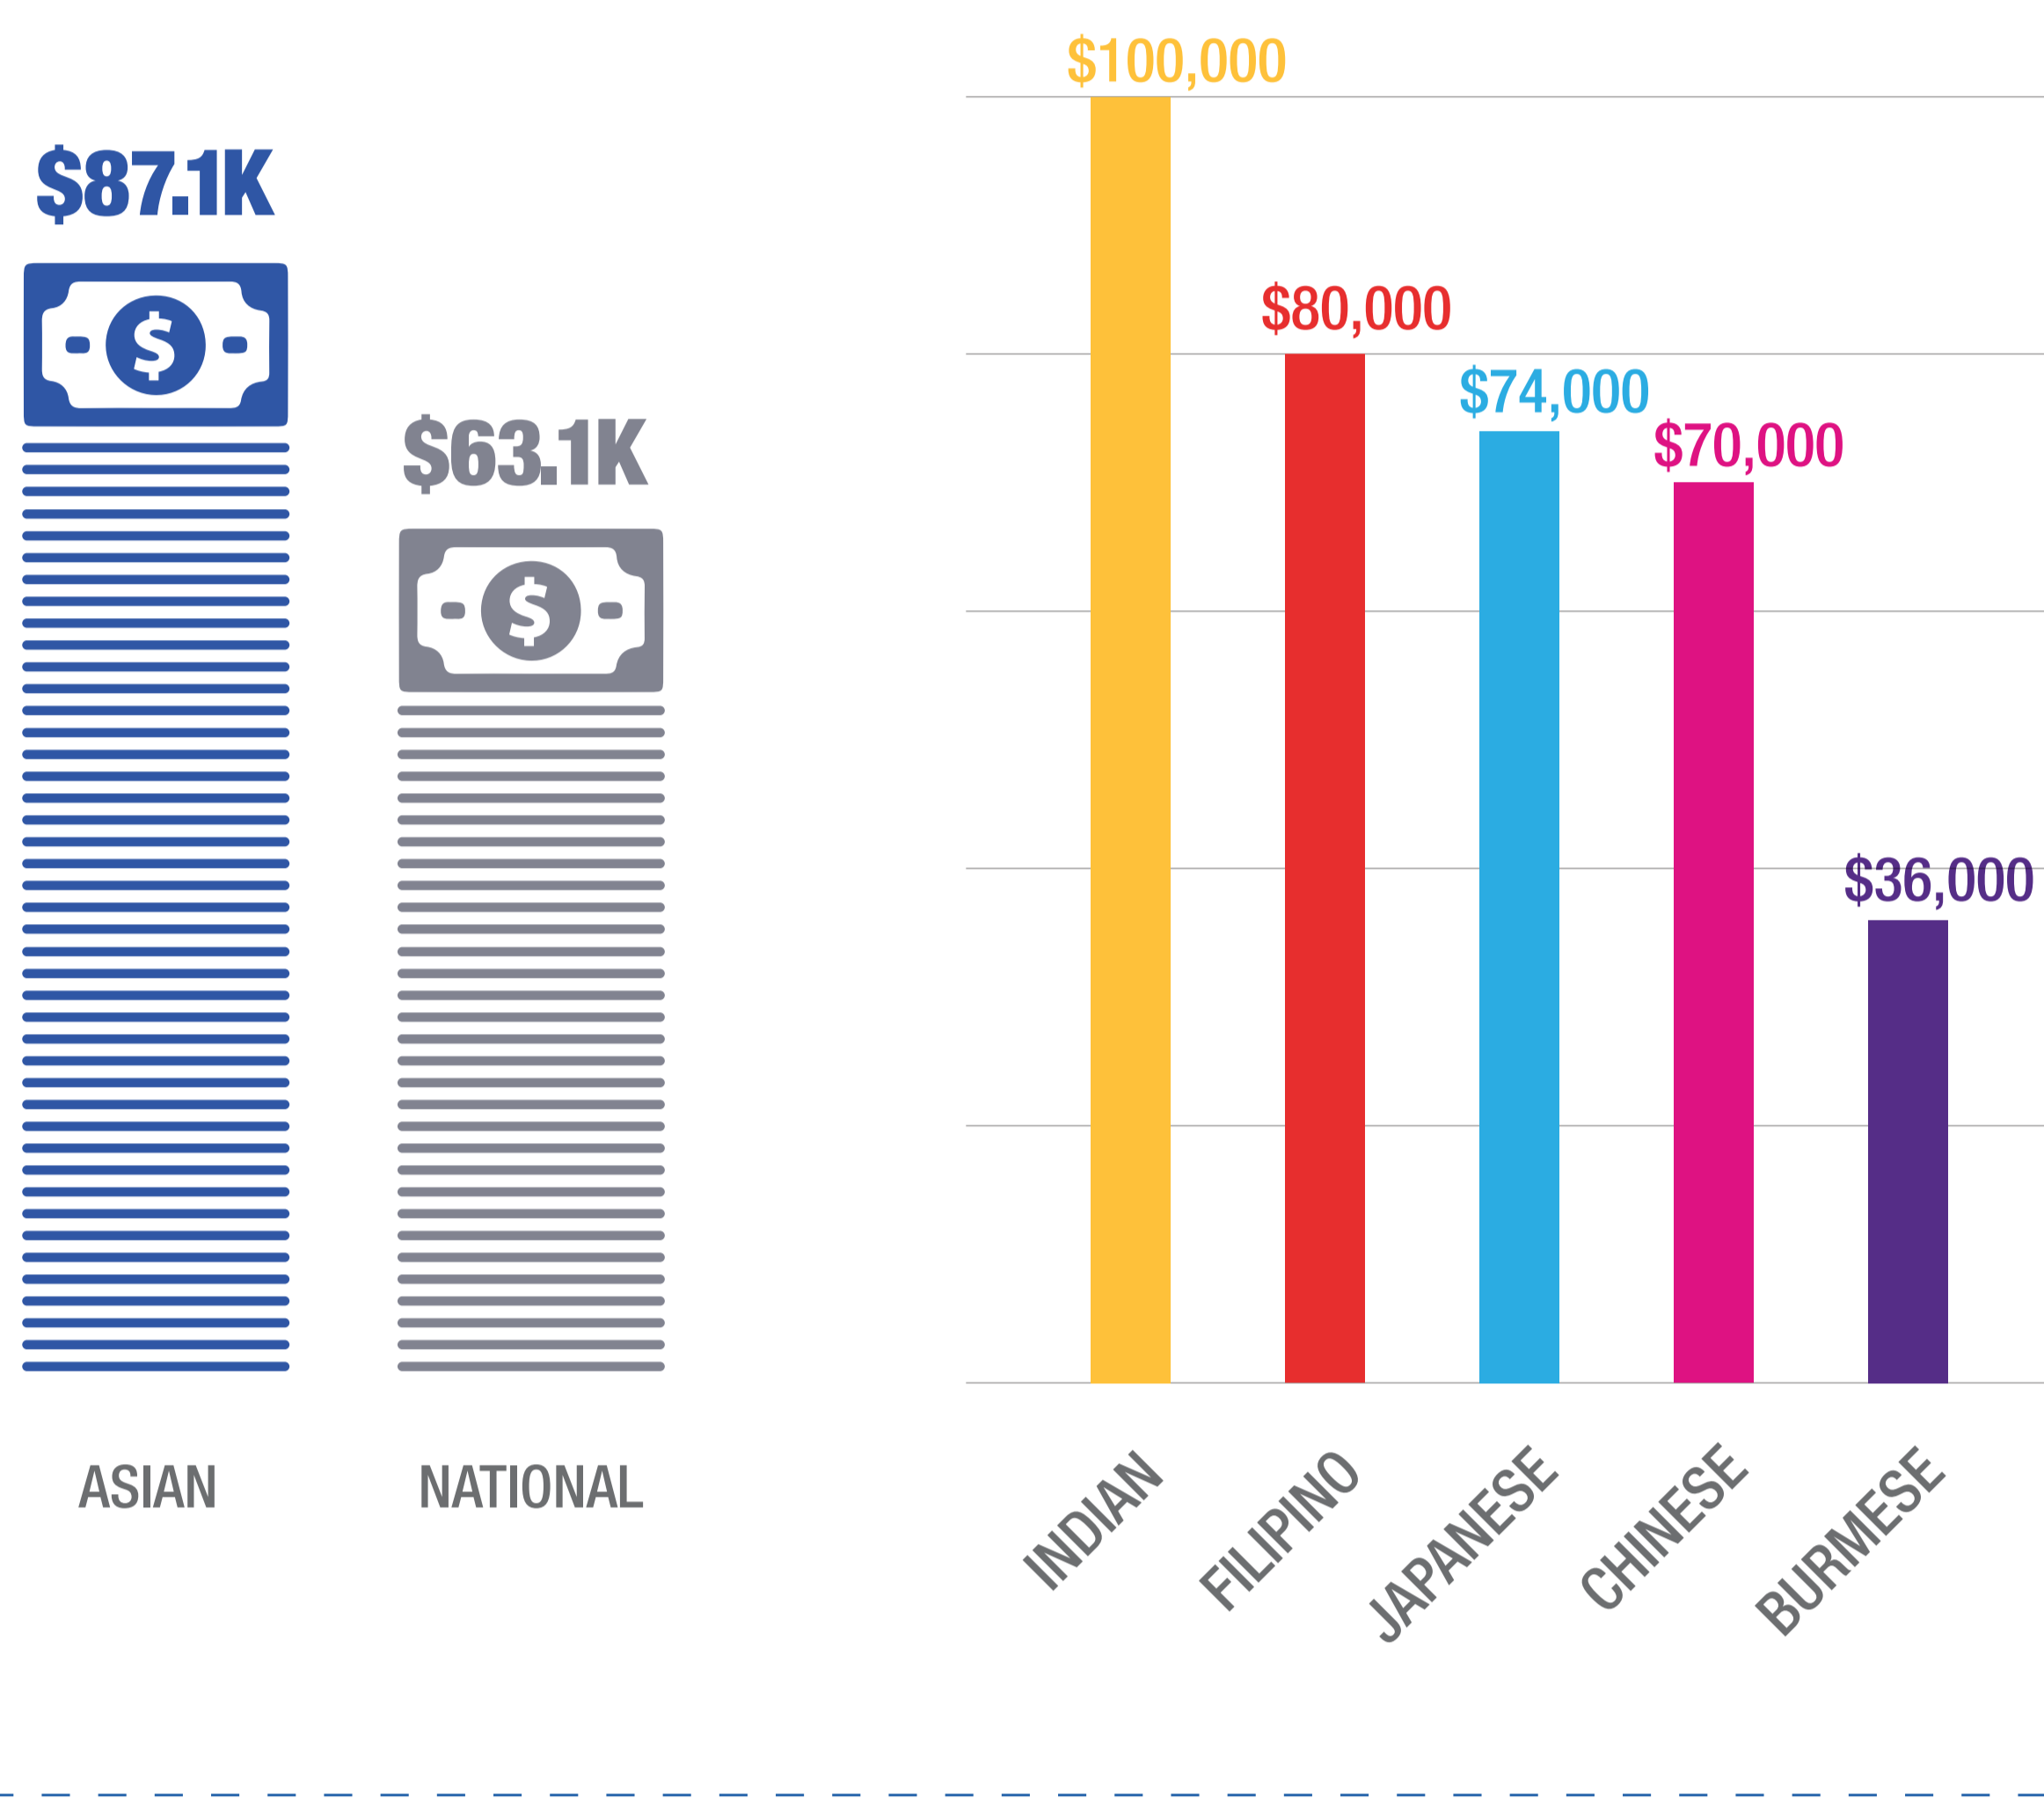

Approximately 22 million Asian Americans reside in the United States – 5.6% of the population.

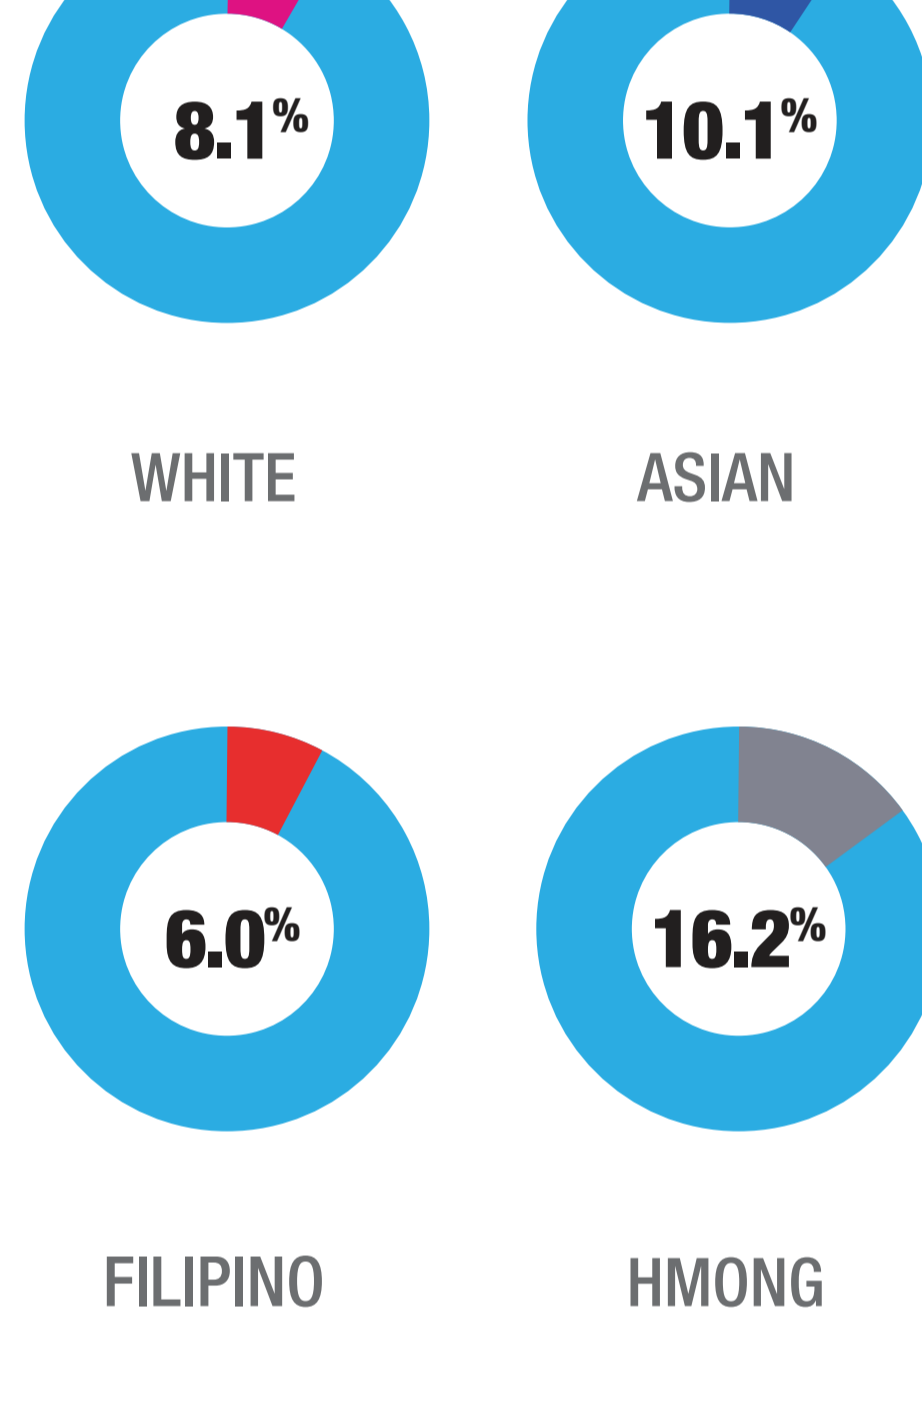

INCOME

2018 annual median income of Asian Americans reached $87,194, which is 38% greater than the national median income of $63,179. Yet nationalities like the Burmese have an annual median income 43% lower than the national average.

POVERTY RATES

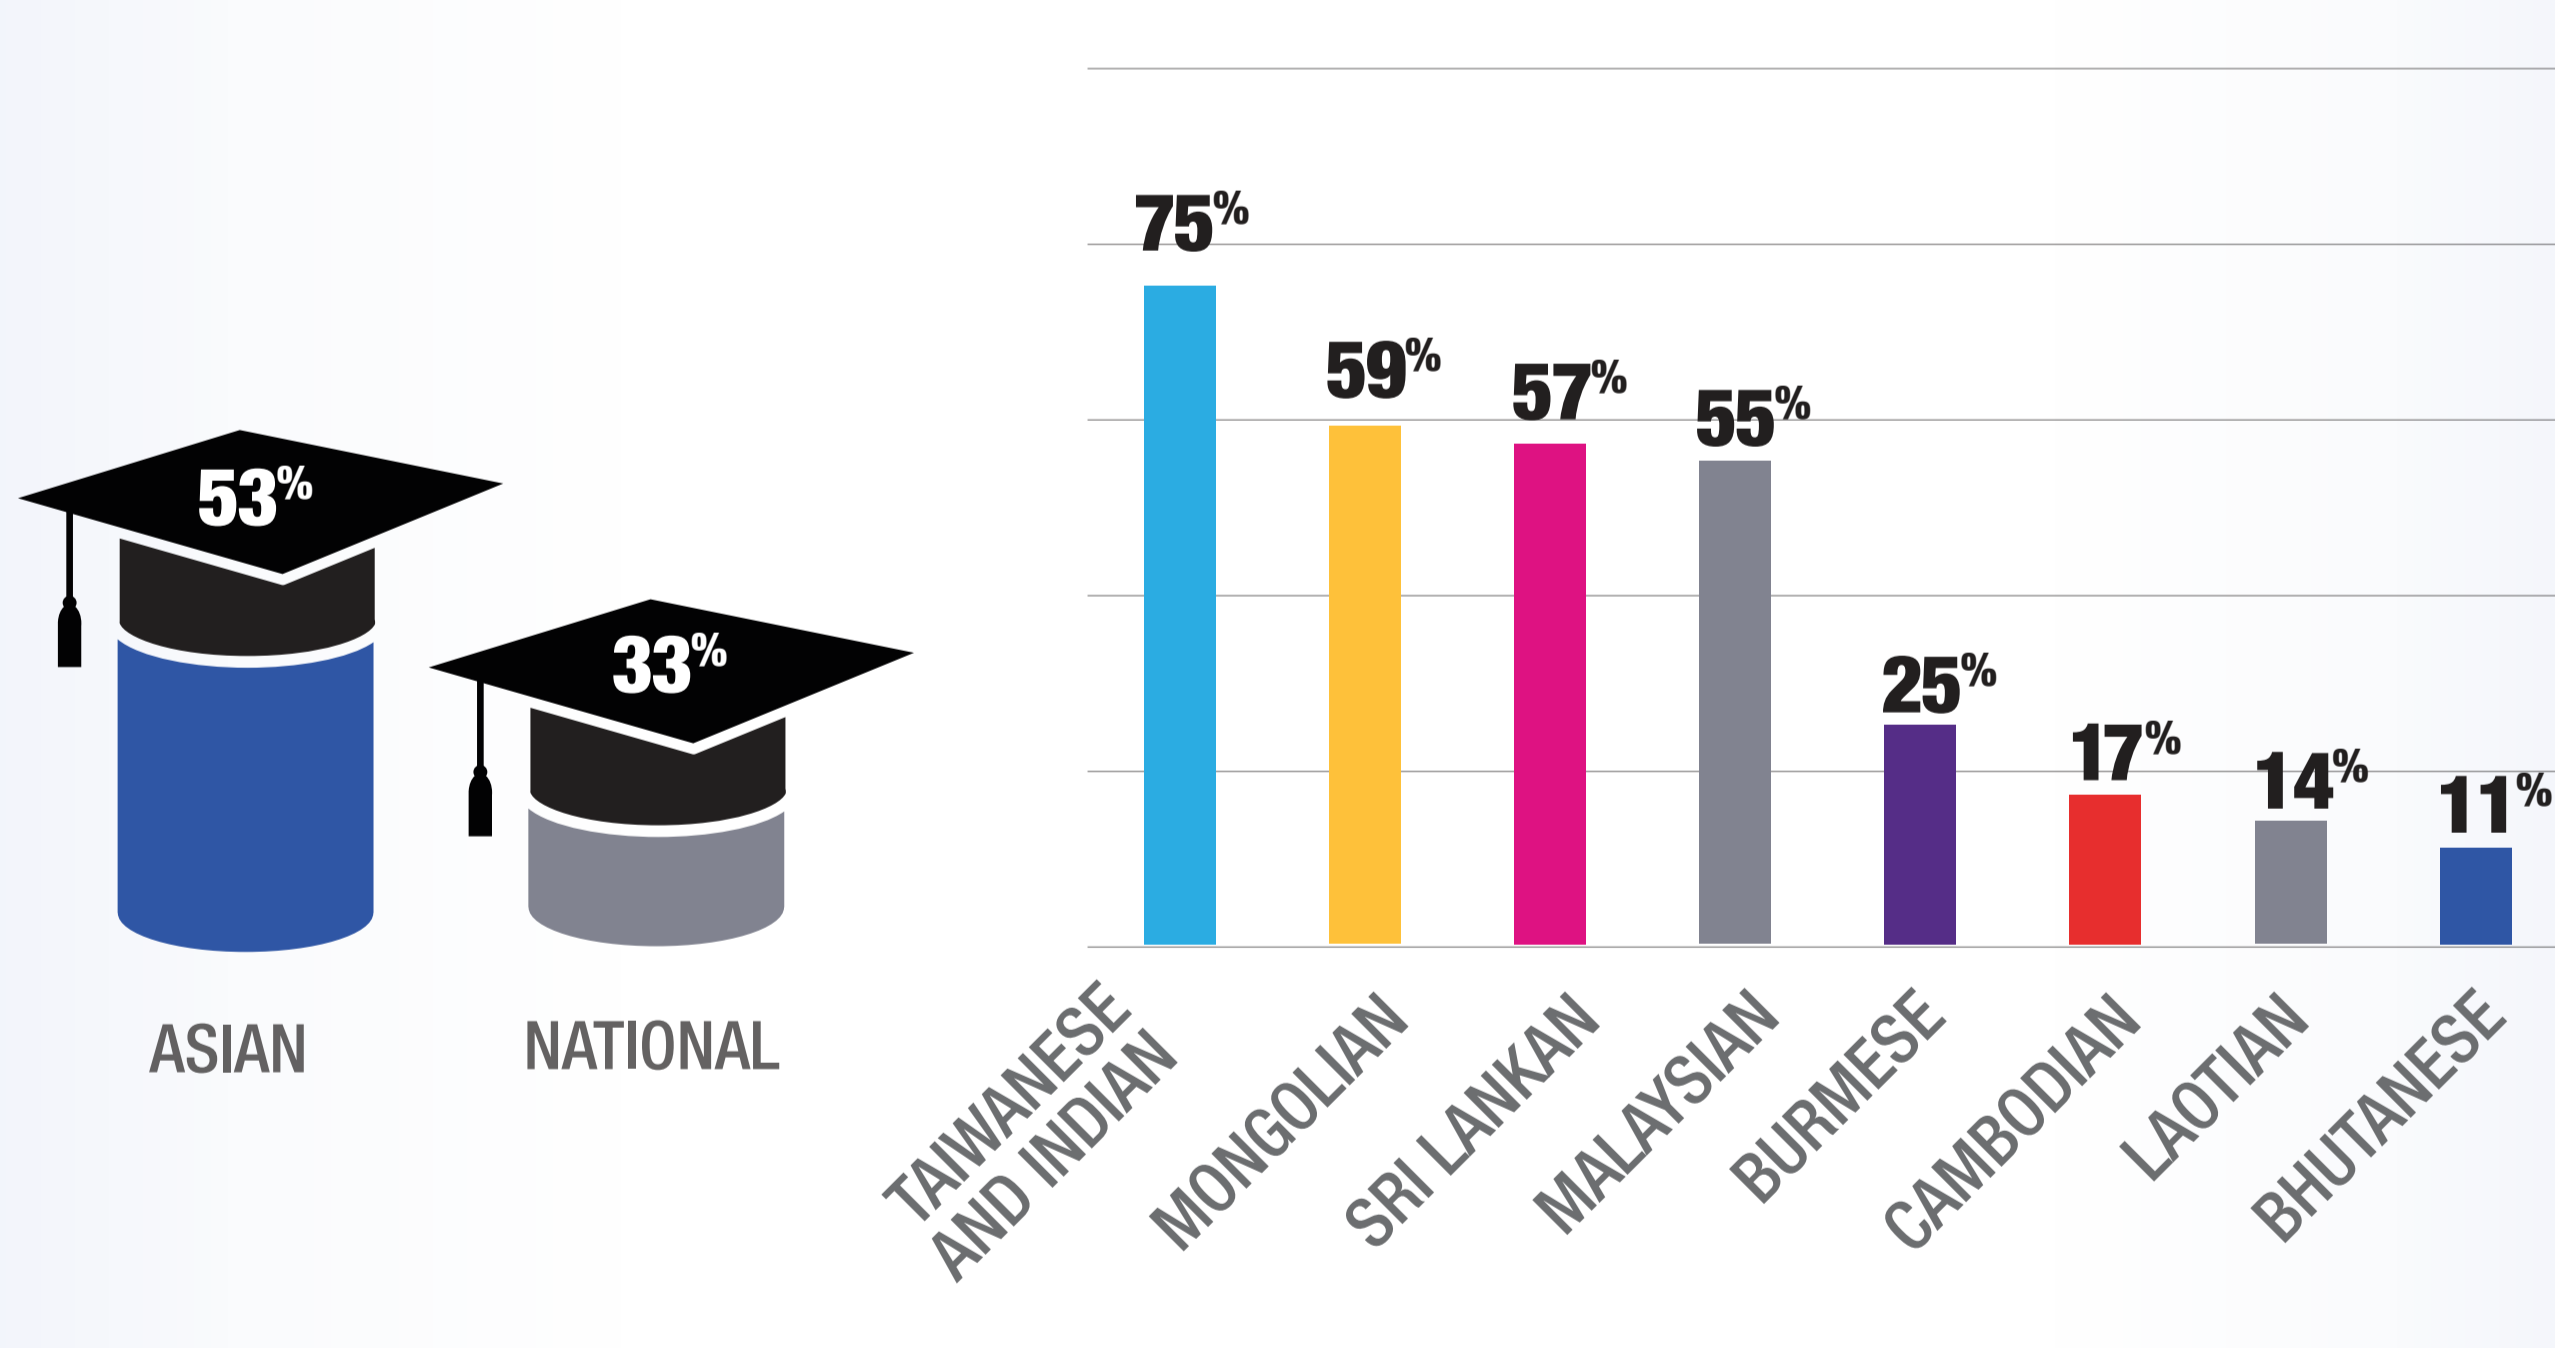

Despite Asian Americans having the highest household median income, most Asian Americans have a higher rate of poverty than White Americans with Hmong having a poverty rate twice that of White Americans.

EDUCATIONAL ACHIEVEMENT

In 2017, 53% of Asian Americans had achieved a bachelor's degree or higher, compared to the 33.4% national average. This inequality within Asian Americans is also found in educational attainment.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE ATTAINMENT RATE

WEALTH

2016 intraracial wealth divide among Asian American households in Los Angeles.

